This week we have been talking about feelings and asking 'Sut wyt ti?'. Children have had a range of stories to encourage an understanding of naming and explaining how they feel.

Nursery have been using the Autumn finds to support counting activities and making their own creative representations of Sunflowers. Some of our learning has been shared on our Twitter account #colhuw Please take a look! Our Twitter feed is also available to view on the front page of our website www.ysgolyddraig.com

We are very pleased that families should now have access to Seesaw. If you have any technical questions or difficulties logging in/navigating the platform you can email, ddraigsupport5@hwbcymru.net

We will share this letter weekly through Seesaw. There will be a special 'Dragon Challenge' shared that could be completed over half term or during the first week back.

We would like to wish everyone a safe and happy half term. It has been a pleasure getting to know all children and supporting them with a new start in school. We very much look forward to seeing all children return on Tuesday 3rd November.
