This week...

We recapped our time skills, reminding ourselves how to read o'clock, half past, quarter past and quarter to on an analogue and digital clock. We also learnt how to tell the time in intervals of 5 and calculate durations. In literacy we wrote our own mini beast story. Our main character was a bee who was trying hard to find his favourite flower. We also created our own story with a partner using Puppet pals on the iPad.

During our topic work we learnt about mini beast life-cycles. We mapped out the stages of our chosen mini beasts' life-cycle and then created a background. We cut out the key parts to our life-cycle and then used an animation app to create a short flip of our life-cycle.

Also, in our topic work we have been investigating which drinks contain the most sugar. We had to make predictions, measure carefully and record our results in a table. We found out that the coke has the most sugar and surprisingly the orange juice came second!
